Food bank in need of new home to keep it up and running over winter months

FOOD BANK FACES CRISIS

WITNEY'S food bank could be forced to close this winter if it does not find a new home.

The lifeline for residents in need is currently run from a garage in Hailey Road.

But Oxfordshire West Food Bank has no toilets, running water or heating - making it difficult for volunteers to help out over winter months.

Food bank founder Jo Cypher, from Bampton, described the conditions as "absolutely horrible".

"It will be bad this winter," she said. "We have to sit in the cold for two hours at a time and several of us are diabetic, so it could become dangerous."

"My main worry is my volunteers are going to refuse to come up because it is too cold and through midwinter, which is when we get our most referrals, we may have to close."

But a group of councillors from West Oxfordshire have pledged to help.

Clegg warns council to 'stop grumbling'

DEPUTY Prime Minister Nick Clegg sent a very stern message to Oxfordshire County Council during his visit to the city on Monday, urging the authority to stop its grumbling over free school meals.

Mr Clegg was at celebrity chef Raymond Blanc's Brasserie Blanc restaurant in Walton Street to promote National School Meals Week, which ends tomorrow, November 7.

It also marked two months since the introduction of a £1billion free school meals initiative for every child aged five to seven in state schools.

However, Oxfordshire County Council has been vocal about the policy in the past and was forced to spend an extra £800,000 on upgrading catering facilities at schools, despite a £1.5million Government grant.

But Mr Clegg said the county council needed to stop its "endless grumbling" about the initiative.

He added: "It is time for the county council to get on board and back something that is popular with parents and teachers. "Most importantly it will be to the benefit of Oxfordshire children for years to come."

"Any teacher, mum or dad knows we can't expect a child to concentrate well in the afternoon and pay attention if they have not got a healthy meal in their tummy at lunchtime."

However, the county council's cabinet member for education Melinda Tilley was far from impressed with Mr Clegg's comments.

She said: "I see no reason why we have to agree with everything this government does."

"For him to come out and criticise us is absolutely crass."

"We rushed around trying to do what this silly man wanted us to do."

"A billion pounds could have done so much more for the disadvantaged children of Oxfordshire."

Layla Moran, Liberal Democrat parliamentary candidate for Oxford West and Abingdon, was also at the restaurant and said after only two months free school meals have made a big difference.

She continued: "I have been speaking to teachers who, despite initial reservations about whether they could carry this off, are now seeing kids in their class perform better than they would be expected at this point in the school year."

Star chef enthused by free school meals

CELEBRITY chef Raymond Blanc threw his weight behind the Government's free school meals initiative when the deputy prime minister Nick Clegg visited his restaurant on Monday.

Mr Blanc, who welcomed Mr

Clegg and primary school children to his Brasserie Blanc restaurant in Walton Street, Oxford, said it has revolutionised the country.

The £1billion initiative was launched in September this year and offers a free meal at lunchtime to children aged between four and seven at state schools.

On Monday, Mr Blanc showed children from St Michael's School in Steventon and North

Kidlington Primary, as well as Mr Clegg, how to make pumpkin pasta from scratch.

He said: "A revolution is happening in Great Britain - a new awareness has at last reached the political establishment that food is crucial to life, to success, to good academic results, to health."

"What has happened is a most important step towards a whole nation reconnecting to its routes, farming culture and to better education and successes for children."

"I showed the children that little seeds will create an extraordinary beautiful plant and they took it in and it's amazing how the imagination works."

Westgate plans

OXFORD: A date has been set for when Oxford City Council is due to decide on plans for the £500million redevelopment of the city's Westgate Shopping Centre.

The West Area Planning Committee will meet at Oxford Town Hall in St Aldate's on November 25.

It follows a reserved matters application of details about the project which was submitted on October 17.

The Westgate Oxford Alliance, a joint venture between property companies the Crown Estate and Land Securities, want to build 70 new shops, a John Lewis department store, cafes, restaurants and leisure facilities.

A question and answer session will be held at Westgate, in Bonn Square, on Wednesday, November 12, at 4.30pm for people to find out more about the plans.

Intruder sought

FARINGDON: Police are appealing for witnesses after an offender broke into a house through an unsecure rear door in the town's Church Street on Tuesday.

At around 5.30am, the man broke in and made his way to the bedroom, where he was confronted by the elderly woman inside.

She shouted at the intruder, who subsequently ran away.

Nothing was stolen and no-one was injured during the incident.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Fire strike

OXON: Fire fighters attended 70 call-outs during a four-day union strike between last Friday, October 31, and Tuesday, November 4.

During the 96-hour strike, the service attended 30 smoke alarm incidents, 24 fires and three road traffic collisions, among other incidents.

Oxfordshire County Council says the fire service responded to every call it received during the strike.

The strike, organised by the Fire Brigades Union, was over a national dispute over central government pension reforms.

ing and care. Alex Drewett, 15, a year 11 pupil at Burford School who lives in Taston, near Chipping Norton, was one of those who visited the fair.

He said: "It was really good. I learned a lot of things I didn't know before and it has definitely helped expand my understanding of my future options."

Paddy Patterson of Oxfordshire Apprenticeships said: "The energy of the schools in working together to put this event on is a tremendous boost for the local apprenticeship drive.

"It is further evidence of the growing credibility and reputation of the scheme as a viable option for school leavers."

It comes after Witney MP David Cameron opened a new apprentice training centre in Witney offering courses in gas, plumbing, heating and renewable energy on October 10.

Fatal collision

NORTH LEIGH: A 26-year-old man has died after the car he was travelling in collided with a tree on the A4095 Woodstock Road on Sunday.

The incident happened at around 5.30pm.

A second man was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford where he remains in a serious condition.

Police confirmed yesterday that no arrests have been made in connection with the collision.

The man had not been named yesterday.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Town poll

WOODSTOCK: A poll asking residents if they oppose any development on green fields around Woodstock is taking place in the town today.

It comes after Shipton Road resident Patricia Redpath proposed that a poll is taken at Woodstock Town Council's meeting on October 8.

Two polling stations at Woodstock Town Hall and The Common Room at Ryegrass will be open from 4pm to 9pm.

Making lanterns

CARTERTON: Free lantern workshops are being held this month ahead of the town's Winter Lights Procession.

Artist Emily Cooling will be demonstrating how to make and decorate lanterns at Carterton Community Centre from 10am to 4pm on Sunday, November 16, and Saturday, November 22.

It comes ahead of the town's Christmas procession, which takes place on November 28.

Leaders bid to find alternative charity HQ

• From front page

Labour's Duncan Enright, Andrew Coles and Laura Price, Conservative Jane Doughty, Independent David Snow and Green Stuart MacDonald are trying to find it a new home.

Cllr Enright said: "We will be going out to our networks and connections, including to local councils and businesses, to find the food bank a new base.

"It would be extremely tough for local families if the food bank were to close, but I know that Witney is not the sort of town to let that happen."

It opened in April 2012 at the Elim Christian Fellowship in West End, and moved to Hailey Road in October last year after outgrowing the space.

It has handed out around 800 parcels of food and gets donations from schools, churches, businesses and individuals.

Mrs Cypher added: "Some of the people who come to us are in debt, some are waiting for benefits to come through and some have not eaten for days.

"We have had families where the adults have starved themselves to feed their children. It is a dire situation for some, and it is heartbreaking."

Levy on developers could fund projects

A TAX on housing developers could be introduced by Vale of White Horse District Council to help fund improvements to infrastructure in the area.

The Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) has been announced by the council as it prepares to launch the consultation for its draft local plan, earmarking where more than 20,000 houses would be built in the district by 2031.

Money from the tax would be used for projects including new schools and road improvements, with the council proposing a standard charge of £120 per m<sup>2</sup> for residential developments.

Between 15 and 25 per cent of the money would go to parish councils, while the district council would get the rest.

Projects the Vale is planning include a new secondary school in Grove, six new primary schools and the expansion of nine existing primary schools.

Road improvements are planned on the A34 junctions at Lodge Hill, Milton and Chilton, the Rowstock roundabout, and on the A4130, A338 and A420.

The council is also planning to overhaul its design guide, used by planning officers who decide if an application is acceptable.

Consultations on the tax, local plan and design guide open tomorrow, and run until 4.30pm on December 19.

The local plan will then be submitted to government.

The council's cabinet member for planning policy, Mike Murray, said: "Thanks to everybody's comments over the past couple of years, we have put together a robust plan that we're confident will get the planning inspector's green light."

"This is a crucial step on the road to getting ourselves back in control of planning in the Vale."

"Whilst finalising the local plan, we have also been working hard to make sure all new developments in the district are well supported by infrastructure, and the introduction of our CIL will help us do that."

"The overhaul of our design guide will make sure that all new developments will be well-designed and respect the character of our district."

Residents get flood prevention advice at fair

AROUND 100 residents attended a flood fair on October 31 to discuss flood prevention methods for their homes and communities.

Held at West Oxford Community Centre, the Oxfordshire Flood Fair brought together representatives from councils, the Environment Agency, flood groups and fire services.

Visitors were offered help with flood prevention, information about flood services, and advice in applying for a repair and renewal grant.

The grant provides up to £5,000 to households to get flood defences put into their homes, and is offered to those who have been affected by flooding between December 1, 2013 and March 31 this year.

Rodney Rose, deputy leader of Oxfordshire County Council, said: "It was an excellent event and I was delighted to be able to visit myself and talk with the organisations' representatives."

He added: "The repair and renewal grant is there to be used and I would encourage all of those eligible to apply."

"The council take their responsibility to protect homes very seriously and would encourage residents to do the same."

Blind veteran set to take part in march on Remembrance Day

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A SECOND World War veteran from Kidlington will join more than 100 other representatives of the Blind Veterans UK charity for a Remembrance Day service in London on Sunday.

Peter Phipps, 85, will march to the Cenotaph in the capital alongside dozens of other vision impaired ex-servicemen and women.

He began his military career in the Royal Navy at the age of 16, but was discharged by his commanding officer for signing up underage.

Peter then joined the RAF and while waiting to start a course in mechanics, volunteered as a parachute jump instructor during the war.

Following an accident after a jump in the Netherlands, he returned to the RAF to take up his trade as an instrument mechanic, before leaving in 1949.

In the years afterwards he went on to various jobs, becoming the director of several companies.

His eyesight began to fail in later life, and Peter has been receiving help from Blind Veterans UK since 2012, representing the charity at the same service last year.

"I thoroughly enjoyed my day and it made me very proud," Peter said of last year's event.

"The crowds are cheering you on and it feels great, but then you realise that it's not about you. You're doing it for those that couldn't come home."

As well as honouring his fallen comrades, Peter believes it is vital to promote the work of the charity.

He added: "I still meet people - even older people - who don't know about Blind Veterans UK."

"I think it's a real shame, and it's important for us to make people aware of the fantastic work that Blind Veterans UK do, and the difference they can make to ex-service personnel who have lost their sight."

Truck firm raises cash for charity

OXFORD-BASED children's charity Helen and Douglas House has received a £12,000 donation from a local truck company.

DAF Trucks, who are based off the Eastern Bypass in Thame, raised the money by renting out their vehicles to local haulage firms.

The 44 tonne trucks were rented out to companies who are members of the Transport Association, with all payments donated to Helen and Douglas House in Magdalen Road, Oxford.

The three trucks that have been up for hire were decorated with livery in support of the charity that offers hospice care for children and young adults with life shortening conditions.

And last Friday, October 31, the company surprised children at Addington School in Reading as part of the fund-raising efforts.

The school caters for children with moderate, severe or profound learning needs and many of the pupils and their families are supported by the charity.

Deputy headteacher Ian Ayre said the children thought the trucks were "cool to see".

He added: "Our pupils and staff loved the opportunity to see the truck up close and were very impressed."

Rugby players invade city centre's streets

LONDON Welsh's players took to the streets of Oxford last Wednesday for a rather different afternoon of rugby.

Players and coaching staff got out and about in the city centre to pass on some rugby tips while also trying their hand at some unusual roles.

It was all part of the club's

'Big City Scrum', which saw an open training session held at St Edward's School in Woodstock Road.

Club captain Matt Corker, who was in Bonn Square giving out tips to passers-by who tried their skills in the passing cage and on the tackle bag challenge, said it was a "fantastic" day despite the wet weather.

He added: "It's great for us to get out and meet people in the community and we've been really warmly received."

"Having an open training session was fantastic for us and another opportunity to meet local kids."

"It was a great day."

Matt was joined in Bonn Square by head coach Justin Burnell and fellow players Tom May, Piri Weepu and Daniel Browne.

Meanwhile, other players tried their hand at something a little different.

Alan Awcock, Nathan Trevett, Ben West and James Down showed off their cooking skills and served customers at the Gourmet Burger Kitchen in George Street.

Pablo Henn and Lachlan McCaffrey pulled a few pints at the Royal Blenheim pub in St Ebbes, while Dean Schofield and Chris Elder visited Sobell House Hospice at the Churchill Hospital in Old Road.

Rob Lewis and Nathan Vella tried out the hurdles at Headington Hill Park, visited Blackbird Leys Park and spent time with South Central Ambulance Service.

London Welsh chief executive officer Mike Stevens said: "Despite the best efforts of the rain, the day proved a huge success and it was great to see the players getting out in the city centre meeting supporters."

Danger of legal highs shown

A FOOTBALL tournament organised to highlight the risks associated with legal highs was staged at St Gregory the Great Catholic School in Oxford last week.

Twelve teams took part in the competition on October 29, which was set up by Oxfordshire County Council and supported by Oxford United, with Iffley Harriers being crowned the winners.

The tournament gave the players the opportunity to win a number of prizes through sporting challenges, while being given information about the dangers of legal highs.

It followed a summit between the council, Thames Valley Police and Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust, where the issues surrounding legal highs were discussed.

Hilary Hibbert-Biles, the council's cabinet member for public health, said: "It was an excellent, positive meeting."

"We all have a responsibility to try and increase knowledge and understanding about what legal highs are and why they pose a real danger to users, as well as tackling their sale in Oxfordshire."

"By working together, we stand a better chance of succeeding in our aim of understanding the size of the issue here and finding a joined-up way of addressing it."

End of the road for Witney bus routes

FIVE bus routes in West Oxfordshire are set to be axed this month after the service operator said they were "not sustainable".

Go-Ride buses are withdrawing the W1, W1A, W2 and W3 services, which run in Witney, and the X10 route that operates between Witney, Burford, The Wychwoods and Chipping Norton on November 30.

The routes were taken over by the Abingdon-based operator on June 1 this year after Oxfordshire County Council made changes to their subsidised bus services in the area.

Dave Harrison, director of Go Ride, said: "We introduced these services without council subsidy from June with high hopes and expectations that we would provide a better service for Witney and The Wychwoods."

"However due to a combination of factors this has not worked out as we planned."

"The services are not commercially sustainable."

"Unfortunately passenger numbers have not met expectations and the standard of operations is below what we and our passengers expect."

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Therefore it is in the best interests of both ourselves and our passengers that the services are operated by another company."

Mr Harrison added that no other Go Ride routes around Oxfordshire were under threat.

But he added three services are under review as part of the county council's annual contract process.

Rodney Rose, deputy leader of Oxfordshire County Council, said: "I am sorry that Go-Ride buses cannot continue to operate these bus services."

"I am aware that they provide a valuable service to the passengers who depend on them."

"The county council is taking urgent steps to work with other bus companies to keep these services running from December."

He added: "We will announce our plans as soon as possible to give reassurance to the local communities."

MP's Corner

Ed Vaizey

MP for Wantage and Didcot

On charity and adoption

WE'VE all noticed in recent years there seem to be ever more special days and weeks set aside to remind us of particular good causes.

I've come across two recently which particularly struck a chord with me.

The first was SUDEP Awareness Day on October 23.

This day was organised by SUDEP Action, a charity which was set up by Jane Hanna OBE and is based in Wantage.

SUDEP Action campaigns to raise awareness and understanding of the risk of sudden death in epilepsy.

I was very pleased indeed to be invited to become President of SUDEP Action and to host an event at the House of Commons which helped MPs to understand both the risk of sudden death for those with epilepsy, and the relatively simple steps that can be taken to reduce that risk quite significantly.

It was sobering to hear from families who had been bereaved through sudden death in epilepsy and inspiring to see how determined they are to help others learn from their very sad experience.

If you, or someone you know, has epilepsy even in a very mild form, please do take a look at the website sudep.org and spread the word about this important but little-discussed issue.

Adoption brings challenges, immense rewards and can make a huge, positive difference to the lives of children and those who adopt them.

National Adoption Week, which takes place from November 3 to 9, will make all of those points and more.

This is particularly important for children who often wait the longest to be adopted – sibling groups, children with disabilities, children aged five and over and children from some black and minority ethnic backgrounds.

The campaign will encourage us all to think about, and hopefully come forward, to adopt these children and give them a loving home.

As you'd expect, there's a website for this week too where you can find more information about adoption – nationaladoptionweek.org.uk/ adoption.

It seems that every day or week now has a special label or significance.

Not all are relevant to many of us, but some really do bring an opportunity to highlight an important issue and make a real difference.

Police are looking for a woman who was seen on the morning of the incident wearing a high-visibility jacket who was calling a dog over to her.

Call 101 with information.

Boat blaze

Attackers 'used Staffie as a weapon' in Oxford

TWO men have been sentenced to a combined four years in prison for assaulting a group of four friends and a police officer in Oxford.

Tom East, 23, and Stephen Baker, 31, both of no fixed address, were convicted on October 28 for the assaults in Little Clarendon Street on August 24 this year.

The incident took place outside the Pierre Victoire restaurant at around 9pm.

A woman approached one of the victims and asked him for a cigarette.

When he declined, the woman took the cigarette he had placed in his mouth, before East ran up to another of the victims and held a bottle of wine above his head, threatened and spat at him.

• Stephen Baker

Baker, who had a Staffordshire bull terrier on a lead with him, then threatened one of the victims, and started to

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

strangle another before being pulled back.

He then threw the dog at one of the four, punched and knocked him to the ground and kicked him in the stomach, before the dog bit the victim.

When police arrived, Baker bit one of the officers and tried to bite the others.

Baker pleaded guilty to assault occasioning actual bodily harm, two counts of common assault, one count of assault with intent to resist arrest and a count of being in charge of a dog dangerously out of control.

He was sentenced to 38 months in prison and disqualified from owning a dog for life.

East was sentenced to a year in prison after pleading guilty to three counts of common assault and one of owning an out of control dog.

Investigating officer DC Matthew Hodgetts said: "A Staffordshire bull terrier was used as a weapon, and ultimately bit one of the victims, nearly causing life-changing injuries.

"Violence on the streets will not be tolerated and will be investigated thoroughly."

Children get creative for Santa

YOUNGSTERS at a Didcot nursery were making Christmas cards for Santa Claus last week as part of a competition run by the Cornerstone theatre.

Children aged between three and seven at Lydalls Nursery School were challenged to think of a wacky adventure for Santa and make a colourful card of him doing it.

Entries are then put in a special post box at Station Road theatre, where the cards will be displayed ahead of a winner being chosen on December 14.

Louise Birt, operations manager at Cornerstone, said: "We can't wait to see all the fabulous cards the children make.

"We're looking for cute and creative ideas for what Santa might be getting up to on his adventures - the wackier they are the better."

The winner of the competition will get a free ticket to see the theatre's Christmas show 'The Life and Adventures of Santa Claus', as well as the chance to meet the man himself.

Lydalls Nursery School headteacher Rebecca Saunders said: "We've been going to Christmas shows at Cornerstone for several years and the children really enjoy them.

"It's great that families across Didcot will be able to join in with this fun competition and have the chance to win tickets to see the show."

• Oliver, three, Italia, two, and Dylan, three, creating their cards for the contest

Brookes Uni building picks up another prize

AN OXFORD Brookes University building that gained national recognition earlier this year has been honoured with an Oxford Preservation Trust award.

The John Henry Brookes Building was given the award for the 'new building' category on Tuesday evening.

It comes after the building made the shortlist for the prestigious Stirling Prize, awarded by the Royal Institute of British Architects to the best buildings in Europe.

The Oxford Preservation Trust recognises projects in and around Oxford that make a difference to the conservation or improvement of the city.

Paul Inman, pro-vice chancellor and dean at Oxford Brookes, said: "We are exceptionally delighted to have been recognised with an award from the Oxford Preservation Trust."

"This latest accolade is particularly special as it recognises the wider benefits that our wonderful new buildings bring to Oxford and our local communities."

"Students, staff and visitors continue to be amazed by the new spaces on our Headington campus, which are adding to the rich architectural heritage of the city of Oxford."

Other winners in the 'new building' category at the awards included the Leonard Wolfson Auditorium in Oxford and Clocktower Court at Radley College.

Awards for 'building conservation' went to 1-3 Ock Street in Abingdon, Oxford University Museum of Natural History and The Queens College Library.

Recognition for 'small projects' went to the conservation and repair of the choir vault at Christ Church Cathedral and 1855 at Oxford Castle, while the 'environmental/landscape' honour went to Wolvercote Lakes.

Debbie Dance, director of the Oxford Preservation Trust, said: "The awards are the trust's opportunity to recognise prominent local projects, large and small, and to highlight the teams that make them happen.

"They illustrate the vital role that positive design has across our community and how our physical environment is shaped by the buildings around us each day."

Anthony Harris, chairman of awards sponsor Critchleys, added: "It is great to see that the Oxford Preservation Trust is not just about preserving the cobwebs on old buildings and the status quo."

"It is supporting the manner in which buildings can be built, renovated and upgraded for the 21st century whilst still contributing to the heritage of our city and the county."

Council is searching for good neighbours

OXFORDSHIRE'S residents are being encouraged by the county council's Trading Standards team to help protect vulnerable neighbours from rogue doorstep sellers.

The council want to establish Good Neighbour Schemes across the county, which sees vulnerable people given cards they can hand to sellers that directs them to a neighbour.

It comes as almost £1million was taken from residents by criminals in 2013/14, who often use pressure tactics to charge more for shoddy work.

Richard Webb, the county council's manager for Trading Standards, said: "Unfortunately there are a number of unscrupulous door-to-door traders out there."

"The Good Neighbours campaign is an excellent way of people playing a part to help safeguard those living around them by acting as a buffer to help stop the exploitation of the vulnerable."

"I hope that there is a strong community response to the campaign which would help reduce the amount of money taken from the vulnerable by doorstep criminals."

An information event on the scheme is taking place at Carterton Market, on Alvescot Road, from 9am to 2pm today, and at the WRVS Cornhill Centre in Banbury tomorrow from 10am to 3pm.

It follows events in Oxford, Abingdon and Henley earlier this week.

Victim support

OXON: A contract worth £1.8million a year to provide emotional and practical support services for victims of crime has been signed by Thames Valley's police and crime commissioner (PCC) Anthony Stansfeld.

Mr Stansfeld, along with PCCs for Surrey and Sussex, signed the pledge with charity Victim Support to provide support for crime victims.

It is hoped the contract will help save costs through working with other regions.

"This contract is an important step towards providing an integrated set of services for victims in the Thames Valley," said Mr Stansfeld.

"The experience and knowledge Victim Support brings, together with their many, much-valued volunteers, will be invaluable to me and to those most harmed by crime."

Court dodging

KIDLINGTON: A 28-year-old man from Kidlington has been arrested after failing to appear in court on a charge of assault by beating.

He was arrested on October 27 as part of Operation Reaper, which saw Thames Valley Police carry out warrants against those who failed to turn up for court appearances.

More than 150 officers were involved in the operation, which led to 10 people being arrested.

Gateway plans wait on inspector

PLANS to develop a site with 500 homes, a business park and hotel in north of Oxford have been submitted to the Government for inspection.

Oxford City Council handed its Northern Gateway Area Action Plan (AAP) to the Secretary of State for inspection on October 24.

Planning inspector Christine Newmarch is assessing the plan, which sets out a framework for development on 44 hectares of land either side of the A44 and next to Peartree interchange, coined the Northern Gateway.

City council leader Bob Price said: "The Northern Gateway development is a rare opportunity to provide significant new floor space within the city for the innovation and knowledge-based sector that is so important to Oxford's and the national economy."

Among the plans is up to 500 homes, a new link road between the A40 and A44, improvements to the Wolvercote and Cutteslowe roundabouts and more parking spaces at Peartree Park and Ride.

Oxfordshire's branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England opposed the build on green belt land.

The planning inspector will hold an examination and public hearings next year.

City to get free public WiFi in £150m project

COMMUNITY centres, libraries, museums and Park and Rides will all have free internet access as part of government plans to see WiFi offered at 1,000 public buildings across the UK.

Around £150million is being spent by the government on the scheme to increase the digital capability of British cities.

Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "Oxford's huge student population and successful tourist industry will benefit particularly from this very welcome investment in WiFi access."

"The city council has worked closely with our world famous museums, galleries and public institutions to secure a very wide city centre coverage."

Peter Smith, president and lead

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

ambassador at the Oxfordshire Chamber of Commerce, was involved in bidding for WiFi.

He said: "The chamber in Oxfordshire has campaigned for increased broadband in Oxford and we are encouraged by this announcement."

"This will help to transform the digital capability of the city, making it even more of an attractive place to do business, visit and invest in."

• Oxford Town Hall is one of about 38 buildings due to get free WiFi as part of the government roll-out project

Man arrested

OXFORD: A 20-year-old man from Bicester has been arrested after two men and a woman were assaulted in Oxford on October 19.

At around 2.05am, one of the victims was punched in the face on St Thomas Street before running off, when he was chased down by four offenders and assaulted again.

He was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital for treatment for swelling and bruising, and has since been discharged.

A man and woman who intervened were also assaulted, but did not need treatment.

Investigating officer PC Ashley Gardner, of Cowley Police Station, said: "CCTV footage shows members of the public walking near the scene and at one point it appears they would have walked into the assault."

"I am keen to trace these people and speak to them as they may have vital information which could help."

Election date

OXFORD: A date for three by-elections for vacancies on the city and county councils has been set for November 27.

It comes after Val Smith resigned from the city council's Blackbird Leys ward and the county council's Leys Division, and Steve Curran stepped down from his city seat for Northfield Brook.

A list of nominations can be found at oxford.gov.uk.

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. ## The Henley Players and Henley Operatic Society

CHRISTMAS is always a glamorous occasion when The Henley Players and Henley Operatic Society get together! However, they do usually dress in a little more than tinsel! But this is the fun that both dramatic societies have when producing shows. This picture is from a recent production of Calendar Girls, staged by the Henley Players, which raised over £1000 for the Lymphoma Research Charity, the dreadful disease that was centre of the show's plot. However many of the ladies belong to both Societies and are always game for a laugh!

If you are looking for a worthwhile hobby, there is always something to do and lots of opportunity to get on stage. The Henley Players tend to produce plays, whilst the Operatic Society - you guessed it - produce musicals. So there is something for everyone.

If you do not want to get on stage, but would still like to be involved, then there are a myriad of tasks such as costume, make up, props and stage hands, set building and so on - never a dull moment!

Tickets for either of these productions are available from www.kentontheatre.co.uk. If you are interested in joining either of these societies, please contact the membership secretaries below: (And we promise you can keep your clothes on!)

Henley Operatic (HAODS) - Ann Jenkin - ashirleyj21@gmail.com
The Sound of Music runs from 30 October - 8 November

Concessions on all performances

Shrek the ogre is in town

SHREK, Princess Fiona, Donkey and Lord Farquaad are trading in the Kingdom of Far Far Away for Oxford's New Theatre next week.

Shrek the Musical will be at the George Street theatre from Wednesday, November 12, to Sunday, November 23.

Shrek and his noble steed Donkey embark on a quest to rescue the beautiful Princess Fiona from a fire breathing lovesick dragon, with a few songs thrown in between.

Dean Chisnall, playing the loveable green ogre, told the Oxfordshire Guardian: "The show shall be a big, bright, all-singing, all-dancing musical.

"We are literally bringing the West End show to Oxford with a full cast of fairytale characters which everyone will love and recognise.

"Expect lots of laughter, great songs and you'll leave the theatre with a huge smile on your face."

The musical will be focusing on the first Shrek film, which was released back in May 2001.

Since then, three more Shrek films have been released, making a total box office revenue of nearly £3 billion, with the latest film being released in 2010.

And despite the well-known storyline in the first movie, Chisnall revealed a couple of scenes have been added to the musical.

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Unlike the first film, we delve more into the background of the characters," the actor added.

"The show actually opens with Shrek as a child which we don't see in the film, and we also get to know a lot more about Lord Farquaad.

"So it is the classic story that audiences all know and love, with a little bit more thrown in."

The musical's director Nigel Harman (famous for playing Dennis Rickman in EastEnders from 2003 to 2005) shared his excitement about the show coming to Oxford.

"I am delighted to be returning to Shrek the Musical as its director when the show comes to Oxford," the 41-year-old said.

"This show is very special to me with its dizzying blend of great characters, a hilarious script and sublime music."

He added: "This production is visually stunning, and the story has the magic ingredient of moving at great pace while still being surprisingly intimate."

Tickets cost £10 to £45.

Blood, tears and laughter

THE critically acclaimed production 'Pitcairn', will be at the Oxford Playhouse next week.

The year is 1789, and after overthrowing Captain Bligh, Fletcher Christian drops anchor at the remote island of Pitcairn in the southern Pacific.

He plans to establish a society of equals with his fellow sailors, however the settlers are unwilling to relinquish their privileges and vices.

The production made its theatre debut at the Chichester Festival Theatre in August this year and is at the Playhouse, on Beaumont Street, from Tuesday, November 11 to Saturday, November 15.

Naveed Khan, who plays Menalee, told the Guardian: "Pitcairn is a historical black comedy, it's very darkly comic."

"The audience can expect a utopia turning into a dystopia, with laughter, blood and tears."

Playwright Richard Bean wrote 'Pitcairn' this year, and quickly saw his work come to life directed by Max Stafford Clark.

"I was very privileged to have worked with Max Stafford Clark," Khan said.

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"He's a legend of British theatre."

The 31-year-old added: "Richard has been writing hit after hit recently and I watched his shows wanting to be a part of it."

"He used to be a stand up comedian, so naturally his writing is very funny and I love performing comedy."

Although he has never performed at the Oxford Playhouse before, Khan knows the city well.

He trained at The Oxford School of Drama in Woodstock from 2007 to 2008.

And when the production ends it's three-month UK tour at the end of the month, Khan will be rehearsing his next production with Slung Low, an outdoor arts company, in December.

'Pitcairn' is suitable for anyone over the age of 16.

Tickets will cost from £11 to £26.50.

FOSTERING & ADOPTION

This year do something amazing.....adopt.

"It took a long time for us to get adopted because most people want to adopt babies and toddlers, not older children. It was also hard because most people want to adopt just one child not two".

What about the children that might otherwise miss out on adoption?

OXFORDSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL

National Adoption Week - Adoption Information Event

OXFORDSHIRE County Council are encouraging people to come forward to adopt the children who often wait longer to be placed with families - older children, children with disabilities and brothers and sisters.

The event, part of National Adoption Week, takes place at County Hall from 3.00pm to 4.30pm on Wednesday November 12th. We are looking for adoptive families who can be flexible about their wishes for adoption.

There is always a need for permanent families to be found for children in care, and providing a happy home for the children who need it most can be a profoundly rewarding choice for those who make it

We asked one adopter about their experience of adoption - "Adopting our 2 children has given us all the joy we wished for. We don't see their special needs we just see them as beautiful happy children who are very special. From the first day we saw them we knew that we wanted to be part of their lives forever."

Children who wait

Brothers and sisters

We are looking for families who are open to taking a sibling group. We recognize how important sibling relationships are and where possible, our aim is to place them together.

Children with special needs

We are keen to find families for children with particular health and developmental needs. The Local Authority will gather as much information as possible around the child's history and their level of need both in the short and long-term however we need adopters who are open to and able to manage future uncertainty. Although we may not always know what the child's future holds we do know that they need adopters that are dedicated and committed and who can provide the level of care, love and security that the children need. Adoptive families would not be alone as a specific support plan would be in place around the adopted child and their family.

Children aged 5 to 8 years

Children over the age of 5 years often wait a long time for an adoptive family because most prospective adopters are keen to adopt children as young as possible. We are keen therefore to hear from families who have no children under the age of 10 years and who could be just the right parents for one of these children.

Children from a wide range of different backgrounds

We will always aim to place children in families where all their needs can be met, we take all things into consideration when matching children with their new family and we are therefore looking for adopters of all ethnicities and backgrounds which will help us to find the right family for the children we are placing.

To find out more about the event next Wednesday, or more about adoption in general, visit www.oxfordshire.gov.uk/adoption or call the team on 0800 783 5724

The Doors tribute act bring back the age of rock

TRIBUTE act The Strange Doors will be rocking out at The Mills Arts Centre in Banbury on Saturday

The band will take to the stage in a bid to bring back The Doors.

Formed in 1965, The Doors are regarded as one of the best rock bands of all time - with Jim Morrison on vocals, Ray Manzarek on the keyboard, John Densmore on drums and Robby Krieger on the guitar.

The group sold 37 million records in the US and over 100 million records worldwide, making them one of the best-selling artists of all time.

However, after Morrison's sudden death in 1971, the band continued for two more years before disbanding.

Grant Coffey, (also known as Grant Van Funkle), who will be performing as Morrison on vocals this Saturday, told the Guardian: "We've never performed at The Mill Arts Centre before, in fact we've never performed in Banbury before, and we can't wait to bring our authentic Doors tribute to this great venue.

"The closest we've come to Banbury is Witney, so hopefully any Doors fans who live in the area will come and see our authentic tribute show to The Doors."

The 41-year-old, who formed the tribute band in 2011, will be taking part in a small tour of theatres in the latter half of this year.

"We always try to reproduce the experience going to a Doors concert in the '60s," Coffey said.

"Just like a gig by the real Doors, a Strange Doors gig has an air of unpredictability where audiences are kept guessing on what to expect next."

Coffey added: "As the singer, I'm fairly spontaneous and the band always follow me, taking the audience to places unknown."

"We do all this using the exact instruments The Doors themselves used to recreate the sound."

"There is also psychedelic projection throughout the show that really enhances the atmosphere."

The act will start at 8pm with tickets costing £14 at the centre in Spiceball Park Road.

The show is suitable for anyone over the age 16.

It's Christmas....!

Wallingford in Business presents:-

A War Time Christmas – our tribute to those who kept the 'Home Fires Burning'

A Charitable Fund Raiser for SSAFA
Sunday 7th December 2014, 12 noon until 5.30pm

WALLINGFORD sometime towards the end of the Second World War... the town is looking under siege. There are Pill Boxes along our stretch of the Thames; the sign posts and all the Victorian iron railings were removed long ago, the shop windows are tattooed with tape. There has not been an air raid but RAF Benson is only 3 miles down the road, but Wallingford is prepared.

It's the first Sunday in December and the town is gathering to Celebration Christmas, it's a time for merry making!

Apart from the Army Vehicles the roads are clear, stalls are up in the Market Place, the bunting may be faded but the Union Jacks look good; the Home Guard Silver Band are tuning up. Good wholesome local fair is being prepared for the Street Party along with Spam fritters, the latest treat from America.

Young ladies are in their glad rags, having their hair coiffured in the latest Hollywood style. They're looking forward to dancing the afternoon away to Glenn Mill tunes, listening to all the singers and hoping a handsome serviceman might buy them a fancy cocktail from the mobile bar.

The Children, especially the evacuees are looking forward to visiting Father Christmas, and hoping for an extra ration of sweets, seeing the Nativity Play and having a go at the code breaking trail. The Fancy Dress competition will be fun too, especially if there's a good prize!

Someone has seen Winston Churchill's Car in the area as well!

There's more entertainment and apparently after the 'All Clear', rousing patriotic singing and Fireworks. What Fun!!!

A short film is being made - local people recalling their War Time experiences and it is hoped this will be projected onto a screen as darkness falls.

'Sterling effort' from MG

BACK in the '60s and '70s, MG was world-renowned for making fun and affordable small sports cars, and the same ethos is being rekindled here by the re-launched brand - now under Chinese ownership.

There are big hopes for the MG3 hatch, boasting modern funky styling and a plethora of customisation options, as the firm's new supermini has been targeted at Fiat 500 and MINI hatch buyers.

It certainly looks the part with a

REVIEW: MG3 3Style VTi-TECH
By Philip Shoulder

sporty stance, curved A-pillars, high-mounted tail lamps and front LED running lights.

Also counting in its favour is a seriously low starting price: entry-level 'Time' trim cars start under £8,500.

'Form' spec starts from £9,000, with range-topping 'Style' models still costing £9,999, although the £10,000 barrier is quickly broken once any one of five styling option packs are chosen - this £11,231 test car wearing 'Lady Grey' metallic paint, 'Weave exterior graphic', 'Tickled Pink' wing mirrors, 'Tech' part leather trim and 'Piano Black Silver' interior pack.

All cars get six airbags, stability control, emergency brake assist and Hill-hold control. The MG3 scored three stars in the Euro-NCAP safety tests.

The MG3's engine (the same on all trim designations) is rather gruff and vocal when under full load, however produces 105bhp, which offers up a 0-62mph time of 10.4 seconds and top speed of 108mph - certainly acceptable figures in this class, but there's not a huge amount of torque though and the power delivery of the engine means that you'll need to work the motor quite hard to extract the quoted figures.

Where it falls behind rivals more noticeably is on efficiency and emissions (48.7mpg and 136g/km CO<sub>2</sub>). It also takes a little while to adjust to the clutch, as it's easy to over-rev the engine.

Other aspects of the MG3's driving dynamics are generally good. Steering is nicely weighted and progressive, the ride is pliant enough to be reasonably comfortable, yet also having good body control, while the gear change and brakes all pass muster.

Overall cabin refinement is actually pretty decent for a car of this size. Yes, road noise is always audible, but never excessively and wind noise is noticeably absent on the motorway.

The MG3's cabin feels as modern and fresh as the exterior, although beneath the attractive design, the budget quality of the plastics which are hard and scratchy quickly becomes apparent.

But MG has certainly been generous with kit levels. Even mid-spec 'Form' models get a leather multifunction wheel, trip computer, air-conditioning, Bluetooth, DAB radio and electric rear windows. This top spec style adds niceties such as 16-inch alloy wheels, rear parking sensors, cruise control and auto lights and wipers.

The car's upright roof design translates to an interior with plenty of headroom.

Legroom is good too, although the boot - despite being a practical square shape - is only average in size for this class, but as you'd expect in a hatchback, the rear seats fold flat to considerably increase the car's load hauling capacity.

Verdict: Despite some rough edges, the MG3 is a sterling effort from the revived British brand, having enough style and ability to be a genuinely appealing proposition for prospective supermini buyers.

Coach Phillips excited by London Welsh challenge

LONDON Welsh's new defence coach Rowland Phillips says he plans to increase the intensity in training to help turn their season around.

The Exiles are on a nine-match winless run in all competitions and have conceded six tries a game on average in the Aviva Premiership.

Phillips, who began his new role on Tuesday, plans to also install a strong defensive mentality at the club - starting on Sunday in the LV= Cup against Gloucester.

The 49-year-old, who is a former Exiles captain, said: "I need to put the players under more pressure in training."

"I probably need to create a higher intensity to give match levels in training - only five minutes here and there."

"It is just to try and get to terms with what the intensity of a game is."

The former Wales defence coach says he has been impressed with the attitude of the players in training and sees the role as a "great challenge".

He continued: "The desire, I can see that in the players."

"They really want to do well, make a difference, and I can use that energy.

"I would feel a lot less energised as a person if the players were not energised."

"I feel quite confident we can change and improve things."

The Exiles have already faced Gloucester in the Aviva Premiership at the Kassam Stadium this season and were beaten 46-10.

And Phillips says the players need to go into Sunday's LV= Cup tie believing they can win.

He added: "I don't want to be a team that goes from 40 points to 30 and say things are getting better."

"I know there is going to be pain before pleasure and this is not something that will change overnight."

"But I would like the mentality to be that we are going there to win."

"Gloucester have a good team and I want us as a defence to take on that challenge and win our little battles."

City shocked by comeback from battling North Ferriby

OXFORD City threw away a two-goal lead to lose 4-3 at North Ferriby United in the Vanarama Conference North last Saturday.

The defeat leaves City winless in their last four games, and they have also slipped to seventh in the table as a result.

Justin Merritt's side have also conceded 13 goals in the last four matches and will be desperate to end the poor run on Saturday against Stalybridge Celtic.

Last weekend, a brace from Darren Pond and a Javi Rodriguez strike put City seemingly in control at 3-1 going into half-time.

However, Tom Denton, Nathan Jarman and Jamie Yates all scored in the second half to stun City and send them back to Oxford disappointed.

Merritt's side were also reduced to 10 men in the latter stages of the match as Francisco Insa was shown his marching orders.

Meanwhile, City's youth team advanced to the second round of the FA Cup with a 3-2 win over Wimborne Town on Tuesday night.

They will face Luton Town who beat Didcot Town 4-1 in the first round.

Robinson urges Exiles to rectify their costly errors

FLY-HALF Will Robinson says London Welsh must rectify defensive errors if they are to claim their first win of the season this weekend.

The Exiles take on Gloucester in the LV= Cup at the Kassam Stadium on Sunday, looking to end a nine-match winless run in all competitions.

Welsh were punished 47-7 by Bath in their opening LV= Cup tie at The Rec last Saturday and Robinson said errors were at the centre of the problem once again.

He continued: "Our mistakes led to their tries and it's been the same story every week. We've got to rectify that."

Robinson has been restricted to Aviva A League action so far this season but has performed well while out on loan at National League 2 side Henley Hawks.

The 21-year-old impressed as a second-half substitute against Bath after setting up Nick Scott for the Exiles' try and then kicking a conversion from the touchline.

He added: "It was fun; it wasn't the best scoreline to be going on to but at The Rec in front of 13,000 is a great place to come on and play a bit of rugby."

"As a team we moved the ball well and got into our structure really well. If everyone around you knows what they're doing it's easy for a ten so I just had to pick the players off with my passes."

PREMIERSHIP RUGBY IN OXFORD - BE PART OF IT

Appleton urges squad to 'keep working hard'

HEAD coach Michael Appleton says the only way Oxford United can turn their season around is to continue to work hard.

United are 19th in Sky Bet League Two and on a two-match winless run following last Saturday's 2-1 defeat at home to Wycombe Wanderers.

Home form had been a positive for United so far this season and, had Danny Hylton converted a last minute penalty at the weekend, their unbeaten run at the Kassam Stadium would have been stretched to six games.

However, the Chairboys returned to Buckinghamshire victorious, leaving United nine points adrift of the play-offs after 16 games.

Appleton knows that at some point Oxford's fortunes will change and hopes it will start on Saturday as they take on Vanarama Conference side Grimsby Town in the first round of the FA Cup.

He said: "I think we have just got to put things into perspective, it is a tough period for us.

"It will be a long season, we are not daft, but in terms of controlling the disappointment of people all we can do is work hard.

"We have to try to put in performances, try to improve results and over a period of time if we do that I am sure peoples minds will change."

Appleton added: "We win together, we draw together and we lose together.

"We are a team and a tight knit one and we will dust ourselves down.

"At some point there will be a period in the season where we will kick on - the sooner the better really."

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Tareiq Holmes-Dennis has been given permission by parent club Charlton Athletic to play against Grimsby this weekend.

Fellow loanees Tyrone Barnett and Joe Riley are also eligible to play but George Long is unavailable.

Top scorer Danny Hylton will also miss the game as he serves a one-match ban after picking up his fifth yellow card of the season in the defeat to Wycombe.

Meanwhile, winger Alex Jakubiak has returned to Watford after the Sky Bet Championship club recalled him from his loan.

The 18-year-old made 10 appearances and scored one goal while at United but has found opportunities limited in recent weeks.

Appleton said: "He has found it hard to get games over the last few weeks and we talked to Watford and the player himself and everyone agreed that the best thing for him right now is to be back at Vicarage Road.

"Alex has tons of ability and is keen to learn and we have enjoyed working with him here and wish him well for the future."

On Tuesday, Brian Howard scored five goals as United's development side ran riot with a 12-0 win over Peckham Academy.

Harlequins edge another thrilling win

JACK Robinson scored two tries as Oxford Harlequins edged Old Redcliffians 29-27 in National League 3 West.

It is the second time in as many weeks that Quins have won by a two-point margin after beating Old Patesians 25-23 the week before.

The win over Old Redcliffians sees Quins remain eighth in the table.

Robinson gave Quins the lead on three minutes after profiting from good work by Ed Yeates.

The hosts hit back with a penalty from Jack Steer, who then converted Sam Steer's try to give them the lead.

Quins levelled through hooker Rupert Cowan and went into the break with a 15-10 lead as Robinson went over to score after a 35-metre run.

The Steer's combined once again for the hosts and Sam Cox went over to put Old Redcliffians into a 24-15 lead.

Quins hit back once again as Seisoni Tupou went over under the posts but Jack Steer's penalty increased the hosts lead for a further time.

But the visitors had the last word as Yeates's try was converted by Ethan Carlisle.

Smith targets strong end to MotoGP season

BRADLEY Smith is looking to snatch sixth in the championship from teammate Pol Espargaro at the last round of the MotoGP calendar in Valencia this weekend.

The 23-year-old Oxford-born rider is currently seven points behind the Spaniard after finishing in the top 10 in the last five races - including a podium in Australia.

And the in-form Yamaha Tech3 rider is in an upbeat mood ahead of the final round of what has been a positive second season in MotoGP.

He said: "We head back to Europe, where we will battle to finish in a similar position as I have to keep reaching these results in order to try and get the sixth place in the championship."

Tech 3 are also eight points ahead of Ducati in the standings and team manager Herve Poncharal is hoping Smith can continue his recent form.

He said: "We head to Valencia where we hope Bradley will have another strong result to strengthen his championship standings.

"With the team position now being third in front of Ducati it is something we definitely want to keep.

"So, it should be a very hot final in all departments."

• Bradley Smith wants another strong result (picture courtesy of Tech3)

Wantage snap up trio ahead of Merthyr test

WANTAGE Town have added three players to their side ahead of Saturday's encounter against Division One South & West high-flyers Merthyr Town.

The Freds, who are currently third from bottom in the league table, welcome the Welsh side to Alfredian Park for a 3pm kick-off.

And after seven experienced players left the club last week, manager Daniel Barry has looked to bolster his squad with the addition of three new players.

Defender Joe Parish joined from Didcot Town on Tuesday after Mark Janes and Daniel Warne also put pen to paper.

Barry said: "Ian (Lovegrove) and myself are very happy that Mark and Daniel have decided to step up to the Southern League and are up for the challenge ahead.

"They will both add a bit of experience and quality to the squad.

"We will continue to work on rebuilding the squad and we hope more signings will follow."

Wantage will be without George Reid (suspended), Bradley Shaw (injured) and Karl Roberts (unavailable) on Saturday.

Sport Bites

Stars shine

OXFORD City Stars ended a nine-match winless run in the National Ice Hockey League South 1 with a 3-2 win over Bracknell Hornets last Sunday.

Stars recovered from a 6-3 loss to Hornets in Bracknell the day before to claim only their second win of the season.

They will now look to make it two wins on the bounce when they take on Invicta Dynamos at Oxpens Road this Saturday.

Kit's the man

KIT Cutter scored twice as Oxford Hawks made it three wins in a row in the Premier Division 1 with a 4-3 victory over Staines last Saturday.

Chris Lim and George Creed also scored as Hawks remained fourth in the table but only three points behind leaders Havant.

Hawks are next in action on Saturday when they welcome Old Georgians to Banbury Road North.

Grove beaten

GROVE Rugby went down to a narrow 15-14 defeat at local rivals Witney in South West 1 East last Saturday.

Phillip Rennie's side are currently eighth in the table with 17 points from nine games.

Grove are without a game this weekend and are back on the field on November 15 when they face Leighton Buzzard.

Kiddy go to top of the table

RYAN Curtin scored twice as Kidlington went top of the Hellenic Premier Division with a 4-0 win over Newbury on Tuesday night.

Rob Johnson and Tommy Castle were also on the scoresheet for Kiddy as they extended their unbeaten run to six games in all competitions.

Kidlington have a one-point lead over Highmoor Ibis and will look to maintain top spot when they face Reading Town at Yarnton Road on Saturday.

Elsewhere, Jon Gardner scored twice as Ardley United eased to a 4-0 win over Milton United during midweek.

Kevin Brock's side are currently on a four-match winning run in the league and are now sixth in the table, nine points behind Kidlington.

Luke Ingram and Kieran Scott were also on the scoresheet in the win over Milton.

Meanwhile, Thame United beat Holyport 2-1 on Tuesday to remain above Ardley in the table.

Last Saturday, Thame advanced to the second round of the FA Vase with a 2-1 win over Chinnor but Ardley were knocked out by Chippenham Park.

MALDONADO GETS BACK IN THE POINTS

PASTOR Maldonado scored his first points of the season as he came home ninth in the United States Grand Prix on Sunday.

The Venezuelan ended a 25-race barren run as he broke his duck for Enstone-based Lotus and matched the result he achieved at the same circuit in 2012.

Maldonado was running as high as sixth on lap 15, but a penalty for speeding under the safety car dropped him down the order.

He managed to make his way back up to the top-10 towards the end of the race to finish ninth on the road, but another penalty for speeding in the pitlane meant he was bumped back to 10th.

However Jean-Eric Vergne, who was promoted to ninth after Maldonado's penalty, was punished himself for clashing with the other Lotus of Romain Grosjean, and the positions were reversed back.

"It was a great fight from the very beginning," said Maldonado.

"It felt good, the strategy was good and the car's pace was surprisingly good."

He continued: "We were fully focused, keeping the pace and managing the tyres.

"I think we can do a good job in the next two races."

Meanwhile, Grosjean lost ground at the end of the race to drop outside the points, eventually coming home 11th.

Following the collision with Vergne, Grosjean struggled to keep the car on the track, which the Frenchman blamed on damage from the accident.

"He broke my front wing and my rear floor, which made the car pretty difficult to drive afterwards," said Grosjean.

"I wasn't very happy about that as the incident cost me eighth."

"On the plus side, it's good to be back in the points with Pastor, but it's just a shame not to have been there too."

Maldonado's points were the team's first since the Monaco Grand Prix back in May, giving them a total of 10 for the season so far.

They return to action at the Brazilian Grand Prix this weekend, taking place at the Interlagos circuit in Sao Paulo.
